

Stroom Connect Xerox Multifunction Device Integration

Yesterday's Copiers Are Today's Business Centers.

Stroom has partnered with Xerox to expand the offerings and capabilities of the office equipment you already trust and rely on every day. With the addition of Stroom Connect™, your Xerox Multifunction Device (MFD) takes over the need for traditional fax machines that have high paper costs, equipment costs, expensive toner, maintenance and trouble-shooting that are time-consuming and costly. Stroom Connect not only automates workflows, it centralizes them from your MFD and routes them directly to the right person - bringing with it the security and compliance required. Now, that's efficient.

Comply.

Numerous regulatory compliance standards like HIPAA, FERPA and SOX require organizations to track and monitor users, senders and recipients of private information to complete the audit trail. Stroom Connect provides a complete audit trail and log record of every fax document sent and received from connected Xerox MFDs, helping you meet regulatory compliance. Fax documents can also be stored and archived electronically for secure access and easy retrieval.

Consolidate.

Stroom's integration with Xerox MFDs allows you to leverage your investment in multifunction technology and consolidate office equipment throughout the enterprise. Eliminate hard-copy fax machines, analog phone lines, fax toner cartridges and other related costs. Integration with the Xerox Extensible Interface Platform (EIP) allows you to take advantage of the Stroom Broadcast Messaging solution to quickly distribute information to multiple recipients via phone, fax and email.

Connect.

Providing a turnkey solution means we install a high-performance server and software pairing that is scalable and reliable for your most critical document management in the most convenient manner for you. After installation, we help you hit the ground running with training to ensure your core staff is up and running using their new Stroom communications solution right away – expediting your ROI.
